- God has specific opportunities for me to take advantage of but how I use the time between is up to me
- God's plan only means that I love others and try to share my faith in a general sense

Does God need me? What happens to His plan if I disobey Him?

- His plan fails
- His plan is severely hindered
- He has to find someone new to do what I was to do in His plan
- Our disobedience does not impact His plan; God's plan always prevails
